If God Exists, Why Does He Allow Evil?

Isaiah 55:9; Romans 11:33-34, 36

Lesson: Trust God in the good and bad elements of life.

1. What's the _____?

The argument: If God were all-good, then he would want to prevent all evil. If God were all-powerful, then he would be able to prevent all evil. Evil exists. Therefore, an all-good, all-powerful God cannot exist.

2. Is there a _____ way to see it?

3. Does God have a _____ for evil?

Suffering can be a way for God...

A. To make us more like _____.

B. To bring divine _____.

C. To show His _____.

4. Who has the _____ problem with evil?

Faith Step: Bring the concerns of your life to the Lord today.
